The Gloucester History Festival

Welcome

I can't believe this is our 15th History Festival and I'm thrilled to introduce our most exciting programme yet. The nation's finest historians give us intriguing new perspectives and fresh voices on the past, and I can't wait to welcome you to our new free events in the Scriptorium Buttery. The Festival never fails to surprise me, I always leave inspired and I hope you enjoy this special year as much as I do!

Prof Janina Ramirez
President of the
Gloucester History Festival

Welcome to our 15th anniversary programme, our most ambitious yet. We range from ancient stone circles to soft power today; the Bayeux Tapestry to the women of Bletchley Park; and we hear from Alice Roberts, Michael Heseltine, Celia Imrie and Peter Frankopan. We discuss a new Cold War and the heritage of Gloucester Rugby, witchcraft and magic.

So whether physically here in the magical setting of Blackfriars Priory, enjoying the pageantry of Gloucester Day and Heritage Open Days, or joining us on livestream, my new Co-Chair Andrew Pitt and I believe you'll find much to enjoy. Join us as we set our compass for the next 15 years.

Blackfriars Priory: A Jewel in Gloucester's Glorious Crown

Festival site open 9am to 9.30pm
Entry Free

It's hard to imagine a better place to bring history-lovers together than the magnificent surroundings of Blackfriars Priory. Founded in 1239, it's the most complete historic building of its type in the country and one of the best in Europe. And it lies just 5 minutes walk from Gloucester's historic Docks and magnificent Cathedral.

This September you can follow in the footsteps of the friars because the Scriptorium Buttery, on the ground floor of Britain's best-preserved medieval library building, is open for a new series of free events, music and entertainment.

Together with a thrilling line up of guest speakers in the main hall and a new pop-up café to tempt your tastebuds, it promises to be an unforgettable event in a stunning setting. Is Blackfriars the most evocative and enchanting venue for a History Festival in the entire British Isles? We think so!

The Scriptorium Buttery Open daily 9am to 9pm

With its twinkling fairy lights, centuries-old stonework and café-style seating, the Scriptorium Buttery is the perfect place to relax with a hot drink from the café, soak up the atmosphere and chat with other festival-goers between talks. This historic space will be a hive of activity hosting free events, exhibitions and in the courtyard music and Morris Dancing!

Choose from our library of free second-hand history books to enjoy, pick up a free copy of BBC History Magazine and bring your own books to swap.

Blackfriars Festival Café Open daily 9am to 8pm in the Main Courtyard

The much-loved sun-dappled courtyard hosts the Festival Café, serving hot and cold drinks and a mouthwatering selection of soups, hot paninis, sandwiches, homemade cakes, snacks and wine from the award-winning Woodchester Valley Vineyard.

The Waterstones Festival Bookshop Open daily in the Kitchen Courtyard

Browse the Waterstones Festival Bookshop curated especially for history-lovers. Get your book signed and meet Britain's top historians where the 13th century friars cooked their supper!

Gloucester Day

Saturday 6th September

Join us for a day of celebrations!

Gloucester Day commemorates the lifting of the Siege of Gloucester in 1643 with a day full of frivolity, parades, music, street stalls, entertainment and a Mock Mayor making ceremony with Town Crier Alan Myatt. Celebrating the rich heritage of our historic city, it's a day completely unique to Gloucester. Expect colourful regalia, decorations, national costumes, banners and flags to feature at the Gloucester Day Parade. There'll be stalls in all the Gate streets and King's Square. King's Square also features music and entertainment.

Mock Mayor of Barton's Parade

11.00am

Starting along Constitution Walk. This intentionally comic parade is filled with larger than life Gloucester characters, traditional entertainers, music and fun.

Thanksgiving Service

12.00 noon-12.30pm

St Mary de Crypt

Everyone is invited to attend this free service.

Gloucester Day Parade

2.00pm Starting along Constitution Walk

The second parade of the day is a more formal affair – involving hundreds of participants led by the Right Worshipful Mayor of Gloucester. Hundreds of people, young and old, march to show their pride for their city.

Events at Gloucester Day are free and no booking is needed.

Friday 12th-Sunday 14th September

Heritage Open Days

Free Event from
The Civic Trust

1926:
Local Stories from A General Strike

Tony Conder

Wednesday 10th
September

Gala Club 7.30-8.30pm
Entrance Free

On the centenary of the 1926 General Strike local historian Tony Conder explores the strike against the backdrop of the coal dispute in the Forest of Dean. He looks at the root of the crisis, who the strikers were, how radical the unions were locally and the levels of revenge threatened after the dispute had ended. Find out how the local press offered a different perspective from the national press with its tales of communist plots and political point scoring.

Gloucester is opening its doors on Heritage Open Days from Friday 12th to Sunday 14th
September with over 100 events!

Organised by the Civic Trust, celebrate Gloucester's history, architecture and culture by joining in the wide and varied range of events taking place over the weekend. Every event is free. Make exciting new discoveries by visiting historic buildings which are usually closed to the public or charge admission, such as one of the finest examples of a Tudor Merchant's house in the country or by stepping aboard an unusual B&B housed in a lightship.

Join themed guided walks around the city and find out about the people such as a Roman Emperor or a miserly banker who have played their part in making Gloucester what it is today. Immerse yourself in free talks, musical and cultural events all linked to the local area.

The Bayeux Tapestry: The Big Questions

Janina Ramirez & David Musgrove 10-11am £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Join bestselling medieval historian Janina Ramirez and Bayeux Tapestry expert David Musgrove to explore the questions you need answered in advance of the biggest historical exhibition of our times: the loan of the Tapestry to the British Museum in September 2026. They'll explain all the things we know (and those we don't) about the great visual record of the events of 1066. Join them to hear why people say it's 'coming home' next year, find out who's in the tapestry (and who's not), why there's much more to it than the Battle of Hastings, and why it has some surprisingly rude bits in it.

In partnership with BBC History Extra

Peter Frankopan

The Silk Roads Revisited 12-1pm £12

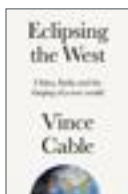

The ancient Silk Roads connecting Asia to Europe were the routes where empires rose and fell, ideas and goods flowed and the modern world began. It's 10 years since Peter Frankopan's groundbreaking book revolutionised long-held conceptions of history and empire. As the balance of global power shifts back towards Asia, he joins us for a dazzling new journey along the Silk Roads of history.

Vince Cable

Eclipsing the West: China & India Forging A New World?

2-3pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

The western dominated world we've known for the past 300 years is coming to an end. China is vying with the US for the top spot in the global economy and by 2050 India will be number two. As power shifts East, where does the West stand? Join the former Liberal Democrat leader, cabinet minister and top economist as he explains with his trademark clarity what the future could bring. What might the political and economic landscape look like in 50 years time? And where does Britain stand? Chaired by Vernon Harwood.

Frank Skinner

In Conversation 4-5pm £15

Frank Skinner is one of Britain's best-loved comedians, broadcasters and writers. In a unique event he joins forces with Janina Ramirez for a witty, warm and fascinating journey into the past. From Sutton Hoo to Viking swords, ancient coins to amazing ruins they share their passion for history - with plenty of laughs along the way. Chaired by Janina Ramirez.

Celia Imrie & Fidelis Morgan

6-7pm £14 / £7 Livestreamed

Join Olivier award-winning actress Celia Imrie, star of The Thursday Murder Club, as she talks about her historical novel Meet Me At Rainbow Corner, inspired by the resilience and camaraderie of women during WWII. Together with Fidelis Morgan, actress, author and the book's researcher, Celia delves into the real-life events behind the book, where a group of courageous women find themselves working alongside GIs at London's Red Cross Club, Rainbow Corner. The illustrated event includes a presentation of photos and newsreels of the real women who inspired the novel as well as anecdotes from Celia's illustrious career.

Eighteen: A History of Britain in 18 Young Lives

Alice Loxton 8-9pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Join historian and broadcaster Alice Loxton as she shares the extraordinary true stories of 18 young people who changed the course of history before they turned 18. Meet Malala Yousafzai standing up to the Taliban, Mozart composing symphonies at five, Mary Shelley writing Frankenstein as a teen and Claudette Colvin taking a stand before Rosa Parks. These are just a handful of her dazzling tales of youthful rebellion and brilliance.

'An inspiring, energetic triumph'. (The Times).

Aethelstan: The First King of England

David Woodman & Andrew Armstrong 10-11am £12 / £7 Livestreamed

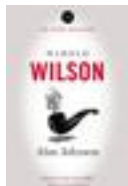

Marking the 1100th anniversary of Aethelstan's coronation, leading Cambridge historian David Woodman explores the reign of England's founder king whose achievements of 927, when he conquered the Vikings at York, rival the Norman Conquest in shaping Britain as we know it. Starting in Gloucester, he traces the influence of Aethelflaed on her nephew Aethelstan, the importance of Mercia to the King and the legacy of a visionary ruler. After his talk he's joined by City Archaeologist Andrew Armstrong who explores the significance of St Oswald's Priory and chairs your questions.

Alan Johnson

Harold Wilson: Twentieth Century Man 12-1pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Former Home Secretary Alan Johnson, postman, union leader and bestselling writer was a Labour MP for 20 years. There's no one better placed to explore the life and achievements of the twice-elected Labour Prime Minister Harold Wilson. He brings to life his award-winning biography revealing a portrait of a truly 20th century man, whose 'white heat' speech heralded a technological revolution and who was as much a part of the sixties as the Beatles and the Profumo Scandal. Chaired by Jo Durrant.

Michael Heseltine

In Conversation 2-3pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Michael Heseltine is one of the last great statesmen and has been at the forefront of British politics for 60 years. The former deputy Prime Minister explores his political career, shares new revelations about his time in Margaret Thatcher's cabinet in the 80s, John Major's government in the 90s and when David Cameron returned him to the corridors of power. He offers a damning assessment of what he considers the self harm inflicted by Brexit and offers an urgent agenda to rebuild Britain. Chaired by Vernon Harwood.

Doorway to the World

Olivette Otele 4-5pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Trailblazing historian Olivette Otele is a compelling voice reshaping our understanding of the past and its impact today. African Europeans, her acclaimed book, uncovered the long and complex history of people of African descent in Europe. Now in her forthcoming book she tells the story of 15 ports ranging from Amsterdam to Bristol, and the Bight of Biafra to the Virgin Islands, each one closely associated with five centuries of exploration, slave trading and empire building. Britain's first Black female history professor, now a professor at SOAS, is in conversation with Janina Ramirez.

Tracy Borman

The Stolen Crown: Death of the Tudor Dynasty 6-7pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

In her new book, The Stolen Crown, leading historian and broadcaster Tracy Borman exposes the shocking truth behind Elizabeth I's succession revealing a tale of treachery, deceit and dynastic drama at the heart of the Tudor throne. With tales of forged manuscripts and secret plots, her new research rewrites the 1603 handover of power between Elizabeth I and James VI of Scotland. She join us to offer a game-changing new perspective on the Stuart regime.

Sceptred Isle: A New History of the 14th Century

Helen Carr 6-7pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Join acclaimed historian Helen Carr, author of the bestselling The Red Prince, as she explores the turbulent 14th century, from the death of Edward II in 1307, when England was torn by war, plague and rebellion. Discover a world shaped by the bloody Hundred Years War with France, the Black Death and the Peasants' Revolt, as powerful monarchs and ordinary people struggled for survival and change. Praised as 'vivid and compelling' this is an unmissable journey into one of the most dramatic and transformative centuries in English history. Chaired by Jo Durrant.

Sir Francis Drake & the Secrets of the Severn

Mark Horton 8-9pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

During the Elizabethan era, the River Severn was one of the key waterways of England. Yet rarely does it feature in the standard maritime histories. Elizabeth I's explorer, courtier and privateer Francis Drake, visited and even hid there with his piratical treasure during the late 16th century. Top archaeologist and broadcaster Mark Horton has a particular interest as he lives in Drake's reputed house near Lydney, but has also researched Drake's activities in Panama, Virginia and California. In a brand new talk he offers a fascinating reassessment of Drake's extraordinary global career, and how his connection with Gloucestershire shaped his voyages.

Blackfriars Talks Tuesday 16th September

Hiroshima Men

Iain McGregor 12-1pm £10 / £7 Livestreamed

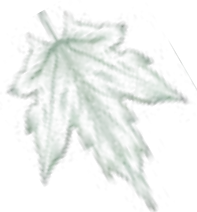

Marking its 80th anniversary, top historian Iain McGregor's Hiroshima Men traces the dramatic decade-long journey to the world's first atomic attack in August 1945. Through the lives of key figures including Manhattan Project leader Leslie Groves, pilot Paul Tibbets and Hiroshima's mayor Senkichi Aways he explores the race for nuclear technology, the air war over Europe and Japan, and the devastating human cost of the bomb. Including Japanese perspectives often absent in Western accounts, he tells a gripping story moving from White House corridors to New Mexico labs and the ruined streets of Hiroshima.

Mission Europe: The Secret Women of the SOE

Kate Vigurs 2-3pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

In her new book Mission Europe, award-winning historian Kate Vigurs tells the extraordinary stories of the women agents who served with Britain's Special Operations Executive. While SOE's exploits in France are well known, she uncovers the lives of lesser-known operatives, from locally recruited women in Belgium, Poland, Denmark and the Netherlands to Jewish agents from Mandate Palestine sent into Eastern Europe. Drawing on gripping accounts of bravery, sacrifice and survival, she discusses why women were recruited, celebrates their successes, and reveals how these ordinary women 'set Europe ablaze'.

Bletchley Park: Remembering World War Two

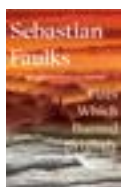

Bletchley Veteran Ruth Bourne & Tessa Dunlop 4-5pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Bletchley Park veteran Ruth Bourne decrypted German Enigma codes and was a bombe machine operator at the very heart of Britain's war effort. In a rare appearance, she joins historian Tessa Dunlop to share her memories of life at Bletchley and her remarkable war time experiences. And 80 years on she discusses how Britain remembers those who were lost in WW2, the subject of Tessa Dunlop's powerful and moving new book on Britain's war memorials, Lest We Forget.

Sebastian Faulks

From Birdsong to Charlotte Gray 6-7pm £14 / £7 Livestreamed

Sebastian Faulks' novels often engage with history at a deep level, whether in the First World War classic Birdsong or his brilliant recreation of behind-the-lines World War Two espionage in Charlotte Gray. His many other acclaimed novels also have a very particular sense of historical place and time and he now turns his attention to his own life in his latest book Fires Which Burned Brightly. He joins Vernon Harwood to discuss his life and writing, and how he puts the past onto the page.

Shattered Lands: Unmaking the Indian Empire

Sam Dalrymple 8-9pm £10 / £7 Livestreamed

The British Indian Empire reached from the Red Sea to Southeast Asia, from India to Oman, Bhutan to Bangladesh. It was home to a quarter of humanity, yet shattered into twelve nations within fifty years. In a dazzling talk, Sam Dalrymple, one of the most exciting of a new generation of historians, discusses Shattered Lands, his sweeping history of how the Raj disintegrated after WW2. He reveals the forgotten wars, mass migrations, and political intrigues that reshaped Asia, leaving legacies that reverberate to this day from the Rohingya genocide to insurgencies in Kashmir and Burma.

Blackfriars Talks Wednesday 17th September

Spice: The 16th Century Race That Changed the World

Roger Crowley 10-11am £10 / £7 Livestreamed

Roger Crowley's Spice tells the gripping story of the 16th-century race for control of the spice trade - a contest that reshaped the world. As cloves and nutmeg promised unimaginable wealth, Spanish and Portuguese explorers set out to find their source, leading to daring voyages, shipwrecks, sieges, and the birth of global trade. From Seville's dockyards to the Spice Islands of Indonesia, the Arctic Circle and the coast of China, join him for a thrilling account of how this fierce maritime rivalry forged empires, linked oceans, and laid the foundations of the modern world.

Thomas More: Saint or Sinner?

Joanne Paul 12-1pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Henry VIII's Lord Chancellor Thomas More is one of the most famous – or infamous – figures in English history. Worshipped as a saint, detested as a torturer, admired as a revolutionary, condemned as dogmatic. So is he a saintly scholar or the stubborn zealot famously portrayed in Hilary Mantel's Wolf Hall? Join leading historian Joanne Paul to hear the story of the man who opposed Henry's break from Rome, was executed in the Tower yet dominated England in the first half of the 16th century.

Henry VIII's War on the Monasteries of Gloucester & the West

James Clark 2-3pm £10 / £7 Livestreamed

Join acclaimed historian James Clark as he uncovers the dramatic story behind Henry VIII's Dissolution of the Monasteries, with a vivid spotlight on the friars of Blackfriars Priory and the West of England's vanished religious houses. Discover intrigue, resistance and unexpected alliances in his "superbly researched and wonderfully told history" of this seismic event (The Times). His compelling talk offers a gripping tale of faith, ambition and loss that changed Gloucester and the nation forever.

Britain's Greatest Megaliths

Mark Horton, Mike Pitts, & Fiona Robertson 4-5pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

From the Rollright Stones to Avebury, Cornwall's Merry Maidens to the Orkneys Ring of Brodgar, the British Isles are scattered with the standing stones of our prehistoric ancestors. We're familiar with Stonehenge, but which other megaliths deserve greater recognition and which will you vote for as Britain's greatest standing stone? Join Stonehenge archaeologist Mike Pitts, megalith expert Fiona Robertson and Time Team archaeologist Mark Horton for a passionate debate as they argue for their favourites and offer fresh insights into our ancient past. Chaired by Vernon Harwood.

The Forgotten History of Easter Island

Mike Pitts 6-7pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Easter Island's extraordinary statues have puzzled generations. Where did they come from? How did they get there? Why did the islanders carve the colossal, iconic statues – and how? And what happened to the civilisation they created? Now Stonehenge expert and leading archaeologist Mike Pitts, who led the team that discovered

Richard III in Leicester, shares his latest research and offers authoritative new insights into the statues and what really happened on Easter Island.

Spycraft: From Elizabeth I to the Restoration

Nadine Akkerman & Pete Langland 8-9pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Forget 007, England's wildest spies were the Elizabethans. Unmask the hidden world of espionage with Nadine Akkerman and Pete Langland's thrilling journey through codes, ciphers and double agents, from Elizabeth I's court to the chaos of the Restoration. Discover secret plots that shaped a nation in this "utterly absorbing and brilliantly researched" history (The Guardian).

A dazzling tale of intrigue and betrayal that will leave you questioning everything you thought you knew about Tudor and Stuart England.

Blackfriars Talks Thursday 18th September

Tolkien's Gloucestershire: The Real Middle Earth

Andy Meller 10-11am £10 / £7 Livestreamed

From Stow's Tolkien Door to the enchanting Puzzlewood, Gloucestershire profoundly shaped JRR Tolkien's imagination. In 1929 he worked on a Roman dig at Lydney Park in the Forest of Dean which provided the inspiration for The Hobbit's Middle Earth and the discoveries made there were the starting point for the legendary ring in The Lord of The Rings. Join historian Andy Meller for an intriguing illustrated talk uncovering Tolkien's life-long passion for archaeology, myth and the Gloucestershire landscapes that brought Middle Earth to life.

Magna Carta Discovered!

David Carpenter 12 – 1pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

The discovery in May that a copy of Magna Carta held by Harvard University is actually the genuine article raised a host of fascinating questions and was described by world authority David Carpenter as the most thrilling moment of his career. He joins Vernon Harwood to tell the illustrated story of Magna Carta and its significance and explain the intriguing tale of this ground-breaking new discovery.

Muv: The Mitford Girls & Their Mother

Rachel Trethewey 2-3pm £10 / £7 Livestreamed

Everyone knows the six flamboyant Mitford sisters, but their formidable mother - 'Muv' - has long been overlooked. In Muv: The Story of the Mitford Girls' Mother, leading historian Rachel Trethewey uncovers Sydney Redesdale's pivotal role in shaping her daughters' strong wills, confidence and even their extremism. A divisive figure in life and legacy, she was seen as saint or scapegoat depending on which Mitford was speaking. In her vivid new talk she brings Muv centre stage for the first time, revealing the remarkable woman at the heart of Britain's most famous - and infamous - family.

The Legacy of The Civil War in Gloucestershire

Richard Graham 4-5pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

We may be familiar with the Siege of Gloucester, the sacking of Sudeley Castle and the Battle of Stow, but the scars of the English Civil War are still visible right across Gloucestershire. Others have faded but are a powerful reminder of what happens when we fail to manage political and religious differences. Almost 400 years on, Richard Graham shares his exploration of 'this war without an enemy' right across the county in a brand new illustrated talk.

Gloucester's Greatest Building

Janina Ramirez, Andrew Armstrong & Phil Moss 6-7pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

From its magnificent Cathedral to its restored Victorian Docks, Gloucester is packed full of historic gems. Back by popular demand bestselling medieval historian Janina Ramirez, City Archaeologist Andrew Armstrong and much-loved local historian Phil Moss fight it out to decide what will be crowned Gloucester's Greatest Building 2025. What will be on the shortlist this year? And will our panel members sink to their knees once again to plead for your vote? Chaired by Vernon Harwood.

Blackfriars Talks Friday 19th September

Women Who Ruled The World: 5000 Years of Female Monarchy

Elizabeth Norton 10-11am £10 / £7 Livestreamed

From Cleopatra to Catherine the Great, Boudicca to Elizabeth I, ancient Japan to 19th century Madagascar, female kings have always been a rarity, an oddity, or an undesirable outcome. In almost all places on the globe a male ruler was preferred to a woman, with female inheritance vanishingly rare and frequently disputed. In spite of this, women have secured crowns - or fought for them - over several millennia. Acclaimed historian Elizabeth Norton tells the scintillating story of the female kings: women who risked everything, sometimes unwillingly, to find a place in a man's world.

Heiresses: Marriage, Inheritance and Slavery in the Caribbean

Miranda Kaufman 11.45-12.45pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Bestselling historian Miranda Kaufman reveals the hidden histories of the 18th and 19th century women whose Caribbean fortunes, built on the exploitation of enslaved Africans, propelled them into Britain's aristocracy. They loved, eloped, divorced, squandered fortunes, and shaped both English society and culture. In this keenly-awaited follow-up to Black Tudors, she challenges our pastel-hued image of the Georgian heiress and offers a fascinating account of how Britain profited - and still profits - from slavery's legacy.

Margaret Thatcher: The Iron Lady at 100

Iain Dale 1.45-2.45pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Marking the centenary of the birth of Britain's first woman Prime Minister, political broadcaster Iain Dale discusses his new biography of the Iron Lady bringing her to life in all her paradoxes and contradictions. He deftly assesses her influence on Major, Blair, Cameron, Johnson and now Starmer, the real impact of her legacy at home and on the international stage and demonstrates how her election in 1979 was a turning point in British history.

'Iain Dale introduces Margaret Thatcher to a new generation and intelligently explodes many of the myths about her'.

Malcolm X & the American Civil Rights Movement

Kehinde Andrews 3.30-4.30pm £10 / £7 Livestreamed

The Secret Wall Paintings of St Mary de Crypt

Janina Ramirez, Andrew Armstrong & Kirsty Hartsiotis 10-11am £12 / £7 Livestreamed

High above the altar in Gloucester's St Mary de Crypt are extraordinary medieval wall paintings - known about since Victorian restorations, but largely invisible. When scaffolding went up recently, Janina Ramirez climbed up for a rare filmed glimpse of what's there. Today she reveals what she saw, sharing the film for the first time, and discusses what these medieval church wall paintings tell us - and why they're more special than we ever knew. Join historian and broadcaster Janina Ramirez, City Archaeologist Andrew Armstrong and church historian Kirsty Hartsiotis to find out.

With thanks to the trustees of Discover de Crypt

The Life and Times of the Great Gloucester Cathedral Organ

Jonathan Hope, Suzanne Aspden, James Atherton & Andrew Pitt 12-1pm £10 / £7

Built in 1666, Gloucester's great organ has brought music to the cathedral and the city for more than 350 years and is undergoing restoration ready for next year's Three Choirs Festival. Join us to explore the organ's history, its inauguration and the music it's played. Learn about its place in Gloucester's story in a momentous year as the nation faced the plague and the Great Fire of London. Cathedral Organist Jonathan Hope, Oxford Professor of Music Suzanne Aspden, tenor and Head Voicer at Nicholson's organ builders James Atherton and historian of 17th century Gloucester Andrew Pitt share its extraordinary tale. Chaired by Vernon Harwood.

In partnership with Gloucester Cathedral.

Alice Roberts

In conversation 2-3pm £15

Bestselling historian and broadcaster Professor Alice Roberts joins us for a wide ranging discussion about her journeys into the past. Following her acclaimed books Crypt and Ancestors, her latest Domination takes us on an enthralling investigation into the spread of Christianity and its complex changing relationship to the Roman Empire. Unearthing archaeological clues and challenging established histories, she takes us from remote Welsh valleys to the shores of Brittany; from the turbulent heart of the Roman Empire to ancient Corinth in the footsteps of the apostle Paul; from Alexandria to Constantinople. Chaired by Janina Ramirez.

Lyse Doucet

A People's History of Afghanistan 4-5pm £14 / £7 Livestreamed

Since 1988 BBC Chief International Correspondent Lyse Doucet has reported from trouble spots all over the world from Bosnia to Gaza, Ukraine to Iraq. Today she tells the turbulent history of Afghanistan from 1969 to 2021 told through the changing fortunes of Kabul's Inter-Continental Hotel and its staff who have endured Soviet occupation, multiple coups, a grievous civil war, a US invasion and the rise, fall and rise again of the Taliban. She will also share her thoughts about current events in the region.

England, Scotland and James VI and I: The Mirror of Great Britain

Clare Jackson 6-7pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Leading Cambridge historian and Wolfson prize-winner Clare Jackson explores the dramatic story of how England and Scotland were brought together under a single crown. Discover the ambitions, intrigues and cultural shifts that defined the reign of James VI & I, who in 1603 was crowned the first monarch to rule both nations. With her trademark clarity, she reveals what James' reign meant on both sides of the border in a compelling illustrated talk. The Times hails Clare as "A superb historian at the top of her game."

Understanding The Middle East: The Great Betrayal

Fawaz Gerges 8-9pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Israel, Gaza, Iran... conflicts in the Middle East continue to send shockwaves across the globe. But why has political change been so difficult to achieve? And what could the future hold? Join Britain's top Middle East expert, LSE historian Fawaz Gerges, for a clear, comprehensive guide to the thorny issues. He traces more than a century of the region's vexed history, from the end of the Ottoman Empire and the European carve-up of the Middle East to the Iranian Revolution, the Arab Spring and Israel's current conflict with Gaza and Iran. Chaired by Jo Durrant.

Blackfriars Talks Sunday 21st September

Alexandria: The City That Changed The World

Islam Issa 10-11am £10 / £7 Livestreamed

Founded by Alexander the Great on the Mediterranean coast, the city that bears his name evolved into one of the most dazzling metropolises in history. An intoxicating blend of Greek and Egyptian culture, Alexandria was a hub of philosophy, science and history, as well as a city of pleasure, politics and astonishing violence. A city for exiles that belonged to all. Leading historian and broadcaster Islam Issa offers a wonderfully entertaining tale of its history from ancient times to the present day.

Legenda: The Real Women Behind the Myths that Shaped Europe

Janina Ramirez 12-1pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Join us for a world premiere as Janina Ramirez unveils her new book Legenda which sheds new light on the lives of remarkable medieval women whose achievements have been twisted – often by men – for political ends over the centuries. From Lady Godiva to Isabelle of Castile, Olga of Kiev to Joan of Arc she peels back the layers of time to show how, even today, these iconic women have been weaponised to justify the actions of those in power and she reveals their true stories.

Greg Jenner

The Stone Age Runs Wild! 2-3pm £12 / £7 Livestreamed

Join the Horrible Histories guru and creator of the smash hit BBC podcast You're Dead to Me for a riotous journey through The Stone Age! ## The Winstone Talk

Putin and the Return of History: How the Kremlin Rekindled the Cold War

Martin Sixsmith

Saturday 25th October

6.30 – 7.30pm Cirencester Parish Church £12

Putin's invasion of Ukraine, Trump's second term and current conflicts in the Middle East mark one of the most challenging periods in Europe's history since WW2. After the collapse of Soviet Communism, the West convinced itself that liberal democracy would be the dominant system of governance. However the rise of Vladimir Putin proves that it's often unwise to make such predictions. Former BBC Correspondent and leading historian Martin Sixsmith traces the historical forces and myths shaping Putin's politics, explores Russia's influence on current global conflicts and reveals how the Kremlin is rekindling the Cold War.
